Hancock, VT 802-767-4976

Sunday, November 20, is the annual Thanksgiving Market at the Round Barn in Waitsfield. It takes place from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be more than 25 vendors with farm fresh organic and natural food from local farms for the Thanksgiving table.

Additionally, there will be locally grown and produced value-added food products, plus handmade crafts and treats for holiday gift giving.

There will be food to buy and snack on while shopping, including samples. Live entertainment will be provided by Liv Del Brocco.

Turner Farm ends its Christmas trees sales business

After 23 years, the Turner Farm is ending its Christmas tree sales business, Trees for Less.

"We have been honored to be a part of so many family holiday traditions. We have watched children grow and start their own families and return to us for their trees. We've given farm tours, talked weather, sports, politics and whatever else our friends and neighbors wanted to chat about. It's been a real pleasure. But the time has come. The family has gone through some difficulties and time is catching up with us. The younger generation has other plans and the work has become more than we care to do. We are tired and we are taking our rest," Ed Turner said.

"We will miss your smiling faces. We will miss the kids who were often more interested in the cats than the trees. We will miss your questions and the holiday cheer. We will never forget the support and care we have received from all of the community. Thank you for allowing us to be a part of your family every Christmas for the past 23 years. It was the best gift we could have asked for. We hope your holidays this year are fabulous and filled with laughter and cheer," Turner added.

nation to the Mad River Valley Food Shelf. Participants will also be eligible to enter their name into a raffle for a handcrafted cutting board. Leave item to be picked up later, let Pomerantz fix it, or hand out and have a cup of coffee while they fix it. In an effort to serve everyone, limit the size of project. Refreshments are being donated by Irasville Country Store.

Waitsfield Cable to upgrade interactive program guide

Waitsfield Cable's interactive program guide has a new look as a result of a recent upgrade that took place on Wednesday, November 16. The on-screen cable guide now has an HD user interface but with the same navigation as before and easier to use features. New features include HD auto-tune. When tuning to an SD channel, i-Guide will automatically tune to the HD equivalent (when available), DV live buffer increases and six channels at a glance - people can view six channels with streamline genre color coding (purple for movies, blue for kids and green for sports).

For more information contact customer service at 496-5800. Additional interactive program guide information and instructions are available at www.waitsfieldcable.com.
